Imagine Dragons - Night Visions (Deluxe Version).Â .Q: Why does the null check in an aggregate return an error "can not be null" I was trying to find out the number of characters that have been written to an OracleDatabaseTable. So I used this code: for (OracleDatabaseTableRecord record : (List) QueryDatabase.get("SELECT * FROM table1 WHERE ID=5")); The returned result is List This is an example of the list : [0] But when i do the following check: if(record!= null) It throws me the exception : java.lang.IllegalArgumentException: Can not invoke public long getTermTypeCount() on java.util.ArrayList Do you know why? Thanks for the Help. A: I'm not sure how you ended up with a List as result. You could try: QueryDatabase.get("SELECT * FROM table1 WHERE ID=5") .isEmpty() .ifPresent(() -> System.out.println("List is empty")); You may want to use a try/catch block as well to handle the case that the query returned an empty list.
