The Avalon 2 is an ancient sword, forged in the fires of magic and with a special power so unusual it is scarcely believable: it can cut through any metal! Unfortunately, the half-century of keeping the sword secret has degraded its magic and now it only cuts through wood. Once used in a fierce battle, but those heroes who used it disappeared, leaving the sword behind to be forgotten for centuries. When a family discovered it, they tried to turn it into a guardian, the only one of its kind, but they soon died in a horrible fire in the process. Now, a group of legends wants to use the powerful weapon, but they fear the magic will be too little to fight against the sinister forces that have caught them. And there is one more aspect of the story - how has the sword lost its power... Learn to play the greatest fencing sport

Onechanbara 2 features two types of bgm, stand by U and stand by Saiki. Stand by U bgm is a background gag, and it's only used in Story Mode. Stand by Saiki is story mode's bgm. Story Mode is the sequel to the Onechanbara 4. This game features more than 20% of content of the original Onechanbara 4. Story Mode of the game is categorized by areas, some areas such as the Aguta Forest, but also some areas you haven't seen in the Onechanbara 4 story. Every new chapter is a new area to explore. And let me show you where to find each one. If you are curious what is a new area, you will find it in Onechanbara 2 story Mode map. The new area areas of the map are mostly in white. And some areas with a variable amount of npc, so please be patient and wait for them to be ready. The whole story will be completed in 1-2 days, and each chapter will be finished in a day. If you're really curious about the new areas, you will be able to have the map with the ability to check the amount of npc in some new areas. In the new areas, it's completely normal to just go to new area and have the npc be free to move and talk with you. But they will soon become occupied. Please be patient as the new areas are coming very soon. And You will be able to check the amount of npc in some new area in the map. The new area BGM will change from Chapter to Chapter, while the stand by U will remain the same. If you want to listen the new stand by U song, click the left of the right hand edge of your screen to know the location of the song. Story Mode: People have been expecting the legend Natsumi, the heroine of Onechanbara, to join the theme of Onechanbara, but unfortunately, it seems she is busy with family matters. The story starts with her grandmother's funeral. The life of the people who surround Natsumi is changing. A little over a year ago, when the 49ers announced that Colin Kaepernick would be the starting quarterback in 2016, there were varying opinions on whether or not he could be successful at the position. He led the 49ers to a Super Bowl appearance in his second season as the starter in 2012, where they lost to the Ravens. Kaepernick threw 13 touchdowns and 11 interceptions in those 49ers losses. Kaepernick, now 26, is the starter for the 49ers and is currently having a nice season. Last season, Kaepernick set the 49ers franchise record for most passing yards in a season, with 4,030. He also led the 49ers to the Super Bowl and played a key role in the offense's impressive 13-3 record. He led the 49ers to an 8-0 start before losing to the Seahawks in the NFC Divisional playoffs. Kaepernick threw for 28 touchdowns and only five interceptions. His single-season rushing total of 12 scores is also an NFL record, along with his brought the Celtic village down in one foul swoop, like an avalanche. Only slowly did villages strung along the coast's namesake, Město Čechův Dvůr, find their way back to sunlight and life. Men, women, and children returned from captivity, reclaiming bed, board, and hearth. You might consider this day a year of reckoning for us and the men who had been sold to the war. The first thing we saw when we returned to our village was the washing of the dead. We dragged the corpses from the houses in which we'd been forced to become German laborers and laid them out by the river. Stout Městsá Milet was cut to pieces. Netřeš, the village tódoste, was burned to the ground. The villages of Konopovice and Kuncovy Chvoj were ravaged to the highest ridge, and everywhere old people and the very young were rounded up for work. More than half of our village was laid out in cemeteries. Barbed wire rings where inmates were forced to dig their own graves was stretched across Městsá Milet. And yet, life limped along, the people of the village were more used to death than to justice, and somehow they shuffled between their homes. Except for Jewish women whose husbands had been taken into custody and who didn't seem to have a reason to return to their village, life could barely be bothered to occur in our village. Work for prisoners was scarce and labor for the village residents — hard-working and selfish — was forthcoming. Life was restored to the village about eight months after we returned, when the Czechoslovak League of Anti-Fascist Lawyers gathered in Městsá Milet, the justice system presented the evidence of the crimes committed in our village, and a Military Court convicted the warden of Městsá Milet and six others and sentenced them to death by shooting. Sentenced to death are the six who have been branded and executed from left to right: Hans Neumann, Jiří Šob, Konrad Sixtus Kuba, Rudolf Richter, Georg Leithner, and Anton Langauer. The warden and five other guards have been sent to the Styria prison at Leopoldstadt in Vienna-Leopoldstadt, where they await their sentence. Many in
