Because of our open dormitories, we have problems with the fire alarm system. In this image, the alarm was set off while they were cooking. It sounded loud, and all the cells were evacuated. There were no injuries and no fire was found. The only way to hear that was the alarm system, and that's not a good system to have. The estimated cost of this project was $2.2 million, and it was completed in 2009. One of our practices is that staff are given a formal verbal warning before they are suspended. After an investigation, they can be suspended for up to seven days with pay. The reason I mention this is that we all try to do our job well, and make sure that our practices are in line with the MN Department of Corrections. We feel that we have a valid reason to discipline our staff by suspending them for up to seven days without pay. The item on our agenda today is a verbal warning in lieu of a suspension. We would like to give this notice to our employees that we are, in fact, not going to do this. We are giving them a formal verbal warning in lieu of a suspension. The item on the agenda is a verbal warning for unprofessional conduct, which means failure to conduct themselves in a manner that is not in line with the values of our agency. For example, talking loudly on the phone or texting while on the phone. We also have another verbal warning out of the "parallel universe." That would be talking on the radio at work. We will talk about those two items separately. Last December a worker was calling a customer regarding an issue that the customer was having. The customer had said that they were contacting their representative, and if they had any questions they would talk to him. The employee on the
