The maison is built in the shape of a half moon. People live on the inside part of the building and people on the outside part. The main entrance is on the top floor, and the windows are a little higher than the rest of the windows, so that it looks like the main part of the building is taller than it really is. The inside windows are made of wood, and can't be opened, so they only let light into the inside of the building. The hotel is set within the beautiful grounds of the historic Maison Blanche Cemetery, in a French Quarter neighborhood lined with the city's finest residences and hundreds of years worth of history. Its central location with easy access to the city's restaurants, sights, and attractions makes it an awesome base for exploring. Rooms are a bit odd and quirky, with tongue-in-cheek features. One room at the top of the tallest tower has a balcony, while the others offer a view either over rooftops or water. The property's most special features are its gardens, which are always sparkling with colourful flowers, trees, and green spaces. They also provide a little respite from the hustle and bustle of the city, and are perfect for kids to run around. The hotel offers free Wi-Fi, a free breakfast, plus parking. Parking is free and onsite at the Hixon Place Motel, so you don't need to worry about hunting for a spot. What's more, the room rates at Quality Inn - Maison Blanche are pretty low for the neighborhood, and the hotel offers a free continental breakfast to its guests. This is one of the best deals on the Lower East Side. The theme of the Maison Suite and Suite was "French Market". The main point of this theme was to get furniture that was once shipped from France to North America and was used in department stores, hotels, and restaurants.

The hotel itself is arranged around two sides of a courtyard. Guests can reach our front entrance by following the sign indicating 'Hotel Tatami' from the JR Fukagawa Station. We also provide Wi-Fi access in each room. Restaurants and shops are within easy walking distance, and shops, cafes, and the famous Kabukicho red-light district and nightlife center. The area is known for its Ginza-style art deco architecture. Popular spots for shopping include Nishiki Market, a famous shopping destination for high-end shopping. We are also convenient for visitors to nearby temples and shrines, such as Ueno Park and the Imperial Palace. Our hotel is designed for adults only. We do not welcome children. We are pleased to offer our Tokyo hotel guests Japanese-style high-quality services that will enhance your stay in a contemporary modern and relaxing atmosphere. after watching the first gateway series, inuyasha, i couldnt believe how beautiful the art looked. when i first saw the character designs, they were like mermaids but they had such a perfect manga-style character that they were gorgeous! i was an anime fan first and foremost. so i was impressed with the character design. i had the chance to see the maison ikkoku anime in action and even got to meet the creator of the manga and anime, rumiko takahashi. after that i was hooked on that series. i would watch it whenever i could. of course, i still have the manga that i read. i still have issues of inuyasha i read and reread when i was a young teenager. that was before i was introduced to anime.

before i knew about anime and manga.
